

Store Profile - Spooners Frozen Custard

Located in Eureka MO just west of St Louis is Spooners frozen Custard. Julie Witherspoon came to the last FDU class held in Escanaba MI only to learn that the class was to move to her hometown of St Louis within a couple of months.

Julie opened Spooner's midway through last summer in an older home. The location needed a lot of TLC and Julie and her husband attacked it with vigor to transformed the old dilapidated home to a family friendly environment where family flock for fresh frozen custard.

Even down to using the garage as an under cover eating area affectionately called "The Tunnel", Julie and her family have put their heart and soul into the business. While the store was still under construction, Julie entered the local Eureka Day Parade with a huge ice cream cone float carved out of a block of polystyrene. You guessed it; she won for best business float.

This year Julie entered again with a huge Ice Cream cake and....won the business float section again. So if you are ever west of St Louis, pop in and see Julie and the crew and ask for a scoop of their Fresh Frozen Custard – their chocolate is to be tasted to be believed.
